IMPORTANT CHANGES IN CENTRAL GOVERNMENT: CHIANG TO BE PRESIDENT OF THE EXECUTIVE YUAN

CHUNGKING, NOV. 20 (CENTRAL)—AT THE GENERAL MEETING OF THE SIXTH PLENARY SESSION OF THE 5TH KUOMINTANG CENTRAL EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE HELD THIS MORNING UNDER THE CHAIRMANSHIP OF GENERAL-ISSIMO CHIANG KAI-SHEK, A PARTIAL REORGANISATION OF THE CENTRAL KUOMINTANG AND EXECUTIVE YUAN WAS EFFECTED.

IT WAS SUGGESTED BY THE PRESIDUM OF THE C.E.C. SESSION THAT GENERAL-ISSIMO CHIANG KAI-SHEK BE ELECTED CONCURRENTLY AS PRESIDENT OF THE EXECUTIVE YUAN AND DR. H. H. KUNG AS VICE-PRESIDENT, IN SUCCESSION TO GENERAL CHANG CHUN.

Mr. Ting Chao-wu has been named Vice-Chairman of the Overseas Affairs Commission to succeed Mr. Chou Chi-kang, who has been appointed as Vice-Director of the Overseas Board of the Kuomintang. There were no other changes in the Government.

Three New Ministries

CHUNGKING, NOV. 20 (REUTERS)—IT IS LEARNED THAT A SUGGESTION WAS MADE BEFORE THE SIXTH PLENARY SESSION OF THE Central Executive Committee of the Kuomintang, which is closing today, to create three new ministries and to change the status of the National Public Health Bureau.

The three new ministries will be the Ministry of Forestry, Land and Water Conservancy, Ministry of Trade and the Ministry of Social Affairs.

The National Public Health Bureau, which hitherto has been under the jurisdiction of the Ministry of the Interior, will be hereafter directly under the jurisdiction of the Executive Yuan, in other words resembling the status of a new ministry.

Forestry and Land was previously under the Ministry of Economic Affairs which, with the creation of the new ministry, will only be in charge of work connected with labour and mines, while all the work connected with the Yellow, Yangtze and Hwai Rivers Commissions, will be under the new Ministry.

Though the personnel of the new ministries have not yet been decided, it is learned that Mr. Chen Kuo-fu, Chairman of the Hwai River Conservancy Commission, will be made the new Minister of Forestry, Land and River Conservancy.

MINISTRY OF TRADE

The Ministry of Trade is an expansion of the work of the present Foreign Trade Commission under the Ministry of Finance. The new Ministry of Trade will resemble a board of trade in other countries in charge of import and export. The Trade Commission may become the new Ministry of Trade.

The Ministry of Social Affairs will be in charge of prevention of smuggling, particularly of Japanese goods into Free China and also of work in connexion with the control of commodity prices.

It is reported that a new Department of Highways may be created to be separate from the Ministry of Communications, but this is not yet decided.

Regarding Party affairs it was decided to include the presidents of the five Yuan in the Standing Committee of the Central Executive Committee. The committee will now be composed of General-Issimo Chiang Kai-shek, Chu Cheng, Sun Fo, Tai Chi-tao, Yu Yu-jen, Wang Fa-chin, Ting Wei-fen, Tsou Lu, H. H. Kung, Feng Yu-hsiang, Yen Hsi-shan, Chen Kuo-fu, Li Wen-fan, Ho Ying-chin, Pai Chung-hsi, Chen Chi-tang, Chen Shu-jen, Chang Li-sheng, Wang Chuan-sheng and Teng Chia-yen.

The new Central Party Headquarters will be as follows: Mr. Yeh Chu-tsang, Secretary-General; Mr. Kan Nai-kwang, Deputy Secretary-General; Dr. Chu Chia-hua, Director, Organisation Board; Messrs. Wu Kai-hsien and Tseng Yang-fu, Deputy Directors.

Dr. Wang Shih-chieh was named Director of the Central Publicity Board with Mr. Hollington K. Tong and Mr. Pan Kung-chen as Deputy Directors.

Mr. Ku Cheng-kang was appointed Director of the Social Welfare Board and Messrs. Wang Ping-chun and Hung Lan-yu as Deputy Directors.

General Wu Te-chen, former Civil Governor of Kwangtung, was named Director of the Overseas Board and Mr. Hsiao Chi-shan and Mr. Chou Chi-kang Deputy Directors.

The C.E.C. session formally adjourned this afternoon.

CHINESE HOLDING OUT IN YAMCHOW: ALL IN NORTH KIANGSI OVER WEEK-END

KWEILIN, Nov. 20 (Central)—Week-end reports received at the military headquarters here declared that the war situation on the Yamchow-Fongshing sector has been stabilized.

In addition to stubborn Chinese resistance, fog and drizzling rain deterred the Japanese northward advance. The total Japanese landing forces at Yamchow, Fongshing, and nearby points are estimated at 4,500.

Severe fighting is raging at several small villages immediately north of Yamchow and Fongshing, including Tatsueh, Wongwutun, Pingngantun and Yentseping, where the defenders are holding out against fierce Japanese onslaughts.

To the west of Yamchow, Japanese forces lost heavily in the vicinity of Fongshing in a bitter struggle on November 17. In the duel the Chinese coastal positions at Laitousai were pulverised by severe Japanese naval bombardments.

AT SHUMCHUN

YINGTAK, Nov. 20 (Central)—A force of about 1,000 Japanese troops at Shumchun launched a fierce attack on the Chinese positions at Pingwu, Cheungmukta and Tintongwei on the Canton-Kowloon Railway on Saturday. They were repulsed by Chinese forces with considerable losses.

NANNING BOMBED

KWEILIN, Nov. 20 (Central)—Nanning, the capital of Kwangsi, was twice bombed by thirteen Japanese planes yesterday afternoon. Many explosives and incendiaries were dumped on the city, causing unascertained damage.

IN NORTH KIANGSI

SHUSHUI, Nov. 20 (Central)—Situation on the North Kiangsi front during the week-end continued to be quiet. In the vicinity of Wuning, the opposing forces hold their respective lines at Chaping, west of Wuning, while at Fengshin and Chingnan, the Japanese have strengthened their garrison in the face of Chinese artillery barrages.

IN WEST SHANSI

HINGTSL, SHENSI, Nov. 20 (Central)—Further successes have been scored by the Chinese in west Shansi in their sweeping drives against the Japanese, according to latest military despatches to hand. Shihien, strategic town north-west of Puhsien, was recaptured by the Chinese on Saturday. The Japanese, numbering about 200, fled in an easterly direction.

To the east of Shiangling, the Chinese have retaken two more important points, Tuanshanling and... Continued on Back Page

TRAITORS AT ODDS

HSIN MIN HUI AND PSEUDO-KUOMINTANG

The extent of the friction between the contending Chinese traitors, Wang Ching-wei and Wang Keh-men, and the Japanese Groups that stand behind them is revealed in the following inspired "interpretation" published by the "Feking Chronicle" a Japanese organ in Peiping.

GUIDING PRINCIPLE

"Though the new central régime under organization by Mr. Wang Ching-wei is to be formed with the 'San Min Chu Yi' or Three People's Principles of Dr. Sun Yat-sen as its basic background, the Hsin Min Principles will continue to be the guiding principle of North China, according to responsible authorities of the Hsin Min Hui.

"With Mr. Wang Keh-min's assumption of the Presidency at the end of this month, the Hsin Min Hui will commence a fundamental reform in order to augment its organization so that it will become a strong political party.

"As the Hsin Min principles have already made a deep impression among the masses in North China and are more adaptable to the conservatism of the people, a reversion to the Hsin Min Principles is feared may result in confusion and cause friction."

A.A. Battery Opens Fire On S. Coast

LONDON, Nov. 20 (Reuters)—An A. A. battery opened fire this morning in a town on the South Coast. An enemy plane was flying at a great height.

Later another machine was seen flying eastward towards the sea. R. A. F. planes had been flying in some of the area before the enemy machines appeared.

TERRORISM IS FURTHER PROOF OF GERMAN INCAPACITY FOR RULING ALIEN RACES

Czech People Openly Show Repugnance To Their Oppressors

LONDON, NOV. 20 (BRITISH WIRELESS)—REPORTS OF THE WEEK-END TERRORISM IN CZECHOSLOVAKIA ARE THE SUBJECT OF MUCH COMMENT IN THE PRESS.

The Times says that although Prague has become a forbidden city to the outside world "it is certain that the Czech people, bitterly resenting the tyranny which they suffer under police rule of the Nazis, have once more allowed their feelings to get the better of prudence and have openly shown their repugnance to the oppressors."

After reviewing the German efforts to suppress and mislead news of the revolt and contrasting these with Budapest reports, the paper says its clear that "the tormented Czech people still place the love of liberty before all other sentiments and are suffering ferocious punishment at the hands of the German masters."

Placing responsibility on the shoulders of the "brutal local administration," The Times suggests the present situation is further proof of German incapacity for ruling alien races. Of the German official explanation that the disorders were caused by "a group of intellectuals" acting under foreign inspiration, The Times says the Czech national spirit has doubtless drawn sustenance from knowledge of the Franco-British war aims, from the existence of a fighting Czech Legion and the Paris formation of a National Czech Committee but the main reason is the evidence before their own eyes of the results of Nazi rule.

"NOT WORTH LIVING"

"A militarized regime that does not understand liberty is, in fact, trying to crush a people for whom life, without liberty, has become 'not worth living'."

TWO PLANES COLLIDE: SIX KILLED

SYDNEY, Nov. 20 (Reuters)—Six persons were killed when two planes collided 500 feet above the Sydney aerodrome.

One of the planes landed on a golf course and the other in a river.

Japanese Cross Border Into Kwangsi Province

Chinese High Command Is Confident Of Ability To Meet Enemy Attack

CHUNGKING, Nov. 20 (Reuters)—While the latest Chinese field despatches from Kwangsi place the northward advancing Japanese forces as within striking distance of Nanning, strategic city in Southern Kwangsi, on the highway to French Indo-China, Chinese military authorities emphasize that this is only to be expected, since Nanning is only 100 miles from Pakhoi.

After the occupation of Fancheng and Chihhsien, the Japanese forces advanced northward from Chihhsien, on the morning of November 18, in several columns.

BORDER CROSSED

The vanguards of the Japanese forces appear to have already crossed the Kwangsi border, for they were reported to be eight miles from the Kwangsi border yesterday morning.

Thirteen Japanese planes, in two groups, yesterday afternoon heavily bombed Nanning, dropping many explosive and incendiary bombs.

CHINESE CONFIDENCE

The confidence of the Chinese High Command in the military situation in Kwangsi is indicated in the delay to return to his Kwangsi headquarters of Gen. Pai Chung-hsi, Chief of the General Staff of the Chinese Army, and concurrently Director of the Generalissimo's South-West Headquarters, who is at present attending the Sixth Plenary Session of the Central Executive Committee of the Kuomintang in Chungking.

FRENCH PRECAUTIONS

KUNMING, Nov. 20 (Int'l)—A Hanoi dispatch stated that large numbers of French Foreign Legion and Annamite troops have taken up their positions in Indo-China bordering on Kwangtung and Kwangsi in view of the Japanese occupation of Fancheng.

This is a precautionary measure against violation of French neutrality by Japanese troops in the landing operations along the coast.

Enemy units are attempting to advance inland along the highway from Yamchow and Fancheng towards Kwangsi, but the arrival of Chinese reinforcements at points beyond naval guns range have held up the drive.

There is no truth in the Japanese claim that their forces have occupied Tatsang in Kwangsi, 50 kilometres south of Nanning, or even Tatsu in Kwangtung.

STOKER P.O. FALLS 60 FEET TO DEATH Naval Yard Tragedy

While walking on the edge of the dry dock in H. M. Naval Dockyard early yesterday morning, Stoker Petty Officer William Long, of H. M. S. Dartmouth, slipped and fell headlong on to the hard, dry concrete surface 60 feet below.

The mishap was seen by other Naval men who hurried to the aid of the fallen sailor. He was picked up in an unconscious condition and rushed off to the Naval Hospital where he died two hours later, at 7.40 a.m., of multiple injuries, sustained in the fall.

Petty Officer Long is a native of Portsmouth and a married man and his wife, who is in England, was immediately notified of the tragedy by cable.

The funeral will take place from the Naval Hospital at 10 a.m. today.

BOXER INDEMNITY FUND STUDENTS TO REMAIN IN CHINA

CHUNGKING, Nov. 20 (Central)—Twenty four Chinese students, who were chosen by competitive examinations sponsored by the Board of Trustees for the Administration of the Sino-British Boxer Indemnity Fund for advanced studies in England, will temporarily do practical work in China until next year when they will be sent abroad, it is learned.

They were originally scheduled to sail for England in September but were forced to postpone their departure owing to the outbreak of war in Europe.

Survival Of Rigours Of War

VAST SCHEME BY ECONOMIST

LONDON, Nov. 20 (Havas)—The famous economist, Mr. J. M. Keynes, elaborated on a vast scheme providing for compulsory savings system to enable British economy to survive the rigours of war and to avoid after-war depression.

He stated that such a scheme would prevent violent rise in prices thereby precluding the tragic usual descents after war.

Compulsory savings should be blocked for the duration of the war but would be released upon the return to peace.

While salaries should be fully paid according to the present high level, the full amounts should not be paid in cash the remainder to be placed in postal savings accounts.

According to Mr. Keynes, the enforcement of such a system would provide the British Treasury with an annual amount of £400,000.

WAH YAN PAST STUDENTS ASSN.

Annual Meeting And Dinner On Saturday

The Wah Yan Past Students' Association will hold its sixth Annual General Meeting on Saturday, Nov. 25, at 8.30 p.m. in the College Hall of Wah Yan College.

The agenda includes presentation of the statement of accounts for the year, as well as reports of the Council and the War Relief Association.

An amendment to the Association's Constitution will be brought up; and Messrs. Peter Tsui, Founder of the College, and Lim Hoi Lan, formerly Headmaster, will then be formally nominated as Honorary Presidents.

After the Election of Officers and Council Members for the next session, a Reunion Dinner, catered by Hotel Cecil, will immediately take place.

According to the reports, the Association now counts 201 members, the largest number on record, and has published an elaborate Journal "The Bridge" during July, besides holding the usual "At Home," Hiking Picnic, Athletic Meet, and Launch Picnic during the year.

War relief work comprises $4,687.32 spent on medical requisites for First Aid and hospital uses, made by lady workers mostly from Sacred Heart School, and financed by subscriptions to the extent of $4,829.65 from Wah Yan boys, Sacred Heart girls, Members, Mr. Ko Fook Son, and Raffles from various classes of the College.

On December 11, 1938, the Council members and Mrs. Kwon, Chairman of the Ladies' Working Sub-Committee, visited the Refugee Camps at Sha Tau Kok etc. with rice, salted fish, condensed milk, used clothes and other necessities for the refugees.

HOW CRIME CAN BE CHECKED

With the decay of Buddhism, which had begun about a few centuries ago, there was a steady increase in crime, stated Sir Baron Jayathilaka when he presided at a public meeting held in the Domingo Dias Memorial Town Hall, Pardu, in connection with the second anniversary celebrations of the Panadura Baudha Samitiya.

After speeches from Bhikku Narada, Messrs. A. P. de Zoysa and C. P. J. Karukulasuriya, Sir Baron Jayathilaka, the famous American newspaper proprietor, as the fair godfather.

SUCCESSFUL JOURNALIST

It Could Never Have Happened. By Alice M. Head. (Helmemann, $5.60.)

This autobiography is a success story of journalism, a modern fairy-tale with Mr. William Randolph Hearst, the famous American newspaper proprietor, as the fairy godfather.

Miss Alice Head, now in charge of Mr. Hearst's English magazine, states frankly in her title—"It could never have happened." A good deal of luck in meeting the right person at the right moment.

Lord Riddell, for instance, is partly responsible for her present position. Added to this there are intelligence, a capacity for adapting herself to new circumstances and a flair for journalism that certainly did not spring from her early strict Nonconformist upbringing.

The most interesting passages deal with Mr. Hearst, who is vividly portrayed. Miss Head has stayed with him at the luxurious palace, which he calls his ranch in California and joined his sight-seeing tours through Europe, and succeeds in conveying something of his extraordinary, meteoric personality to her readers.

In most fairy-tales there is a castle. In "It Could Never Have Happened" it is St. Donat's, the historic Welsh castle, which she was commissioned to buy, adapt and furnish at lavish expense. Mr. Hearst entertained a number of the distinguished people at St. Donat's but, following the crisis of September, 1938, he decided to dispose of it, and most of the wonderful collection of furniture, silver, tapestries, armour and pictures has now been sold.

Miss Head writes with disarmingly simplicity about her career and the people she has met. She is inclined to be repetitive and leaves one wondering why such an expert

PLANS TO KEEP HUNTING GOING

Problem Of Reduced Establishments

Reports from hunting countries reflect the desire of masters of foxhounds to continue hunting as far as this can be done with reduced establishments for the benefit of futurity; and the Master of Foxhounds Association has made a definite appeal on these lines to its members.

It is not my purpose here to discuss this problem from the general point of view—whether or no the continuance of hunting when the world emerges from its present state of chaos will be possible, or desirable. The possibilities, however, will depend entirely on the action taken now.

Reports have been current that no cubhunting is in progress, horses dispersed, and hounds put down. Such a general statement is entirely incorrect.

Certainly one master has proclaimed that he has put down many couple of hounds as a public duty—lest they should take food which can be better used. Fourth and fifth season hounds pass on in any case, and the question arises in this particular country as to what percentage of old hounds went the way of all flesh in the ordinary course of events.

NECESSARY CUTS
But young hounds, too, will suffer of necessity. In a well-known county 20 couple have had to go, and five hunt servants and 10 horses joining the Army at the same time—the first day of war.

The Meynell, Cottemore, Cattistock, and others are cubhunting, and cubhunting will continue. Later, we will see, as was the case in 1914, hunts maintained with the minimum number of hounds necessary for the continuance of breeding, hound feed adjusted to the requirements of the country, and with depleted hunt staffs of older men and determined women.

Not the least of the reasons for the maintenance of foxhunting, apart from the necessity for keeping down foxes, is the recreation and relaxation it provides for weary fighters from the front.

In most countries, the farmers will be on the side of the foxhunter. It is easy to stop hunting, hard to start again.

WOMEN OF THE WORLD—UNITE

The Women's League of Unity has been formed under the presidency of Lady Waddilove, assisted, among others, by the Viscountess Chetwynd, Dowager Lady Raglan, Lady David Douglas-Hamilton, and Lady Lampson.

Its main object is to unite the women of the world with a view to preventing wars in the future. Also, the furtherance of and the gaining of better facilities and recognition for women generally.

The League claims that instead of nations spending years and millions of pounds preparing instruments of death for the destruction of the world in future wars—these countless millions can and should be spent on creating and subsidising the multifarious needs of humanity as a whole.

All women are urged to write at once for particulars to the honorary League of Unity, 149, Fleet-street, London E.C.4, England.

WAR TUNES OF 1939

Song publishers propose, but Tommy whether of 1914-18 or of 1939, disposes when it comes to popular tunes.

In other words, though the successors to "Tipperary" and "Pack up your troubles" may have been written, they are not yet chosen. What the troops will march to and make the tune of the moment only the boys know.

It may have nothing to do with war, but it will certainly have a lift and a rhythm and be easy to march to.

Some of the potential soldier songs have a 1914-18 connection, as:

Everything's tray bon; we're off to meet Yvonne.

The daughter of Mademoiselle from Armentieres.

Others have a topicality which is purely 1939, as "We all sit together in the Shelter."

In sentimental vein are "Wish Me Luck"—a Gracie Field's choice—"You've got to smile as you say good-bye," and "Don't forget to drop a line to mother."

A BARREL OF CHEER

Here's the chorus of a Gracie's song, which, she writes from her Peacehaven home, she hopes the boys will like:—

Wish me luck, as you wave me "Goodbye."

Cheerio, here I go, on my way, Wish me luck, as you wave me "Goodbye."

With cheer, not a tear, make it gay. Give me a smile I can keep all the while.

In my heart while I'm away, Till we meet once again, you and I.

Wish me luck, as you wave me "Good-bye."

"Run, Rabbit, Run," will probably become "Run, Hitler, Run," when the troops get hold of it.

Well in the running at the moment is "Roll out the barrel," which really comes from France, where it was popular before the German annexation.

Here are the words of the chorus, published by Keith Prowse:

Roll out the barrel, We'll have a barrel of fun, Roll out the barrel, We've got the blues on the run.

AIRMAN RETURNS TO INTERNMENT

LONDON, Nov. 20 (Reuter).—A British airman, accompanied by his wife, has voluntarily returned to Iceland to be interned for the duration of the war.

It will be recalled that he brought down his flying boat in Icelandic waters in September and subsequently took off and returned to England under the impression that he had given no pledge to remain.

When he heard of the misunderstanding, he immediately volunteered to return. He will be interned in the former palace, which is now a modern farm.

"NEWS IS MADE AT NIGHT"

An enthralling story, seething with the excitement of the daring expose of a hard-fighting editor and his romantic girl reporter, is skilfully told in "News is Made at Night," the action-packed 20th Century-Fox picture which opens to-morrow at the Majestic Theatre.

"News is Made at Night"—and what incredible headline news it is! The crusading journalists tear the mask of respectability from a man cushioned by the influence of "big business" to reveal a trail of murder and blackmail, to expose an astonishing hoax that victimized a nation.

Preston Foster, whose performances in "Submarine Patrol," "Up the River" and "Chasing Danger" won him a wide fan following, plays with forthright determination the stop-at-nothing editor and crusader for law and order.

TOUCHING APPEAL BY A FATHER FOR LENIENCY FOR HIS SON AT THE SESSIONS

Imprisonment And Birch For Youth On Robbery Charge: Three Men Are Discharged

ALLEGATIONS AGAINST POLICE

The plea of a father for leniency for his son was made at the Criminal Sessions before Mr. Justice R. E. Lindsell yesterday after the jury had returned their verdict in the case in which five men were charged with robbery.

His Lordship, after listening to the father's appeal, sentenced the youth to four days' imprisonment and ten strokes of the birch on the father giving a guarantee in $100 for the boy's good behaviour for a year.

The accused were Kwong Ming Yip, Lo Cho, alias Ah Chuen, Lo Tung, Chu Wan, alias Chu Tsai, alias Kai Chun, and Lui Kong, alias Ah Kong. The first and fifth defendants had pleaded guilty when the case was called on Friday and came up for sentence yesterday, with the other three defendants who stood their trial.

After a hearing lasting until late last evening, the three were found not guilty by a majority of five to two. They were accordingly discharged.

The first accused on his own admission of guilt was sentenced to two years' hard labour, while the fifth, a mere youth of 18, on whose behalf his father, Lui Ling, made a touching appeal, was sentenced to four days' imprisonment and ten strokes of the birch.

The jury consisted of Messrs. R. P. Dunlop (foreman), Tai Yut-lung, M. J. Rouban, F. J. Elarte, Lo Kal-hong, R. M. G. de Silva and O. F. Ribeiro, Jr.

Mr. T. J. Gould, Assistant Crown Solicitor, prosecuted assisted by Sgt. C. Dowman. The accused were not legally represented.

Opening his case, Mr. Gould said that the men were charged with robbery of a watch and a fountain pen from Chan Pak-hang about 9 p.m. on Oct. 26, in Boundary Road, Kowloon. Chan alleged he was surrounded by three men and asked, "Have you any money?" Two of the men held him, while the other snatched his watch and chain, leaving a part of the chain, which broke, behind. The men also took the complainant's fountain pen.

FOOT ITCH ATHLETE'S FOOT

According to the Government Health Bulletin No. 2-28, at least 50% of the adult population of the United States are being attacked by the disease known as Athlete's Foot.

Usually the disease starts between the toes. Little watery blisters form and the skin cracks and peels. After a while the itching becomes intense and you feel as though you would like to scratch out all the skin.

Beware of Its Spreading

Often the disease travels all over the bottom of the feet. The soles of your feet become red and swollen. The nails also crack and peel, and the itching becomes worse and worse.

Get rid of this disease as quickly as possible, because it is very contagious and it may go to your hands or even to the under arm or crutch of the legs.

Most people who have Athlete's Foot have tried all kinds of remedies to cure it without success. Ordinary antiseptics, antipruritics, salve or ointments seldom do any good.

Here's How to Treat It

The germ that causes the disease is known as "Tinea Trichophyton". It buries itself deep in the tissues of the skin and is very hard to kill. A test made shows it takes 25 minutes of boiling to kill the germ, so you can see why the ordinary remedies are unavailing.

It was developed solely for the purpose of treating Athlete's Foot. It is a liquid that penetrates and dries quickly. You just paint the affected parts. It peels off the skin soft and smooth. You will marvel at the quick way it brings you relief; especially if you are one of those who have tried for years to get rid of Athlete's Foot without success.

upon the robbers scattered, but one, the first accused, was chased and caught. He (first accused) next day led the police to the second accused who in turn took the police to the third, fourth and fifth accused who were likewise arrested.

The arrested men were cautioned and asked to make statements which they did. Those statements were the only evidence of identification the prosecution had. There was no doubt that the crime had been committed, however, as there was sufficient evidence of that.

Chan Pak-hong, 20 complainant, was the first witness. He said he was going down Boundary Street on the night in question when he met five men coming in the opposite direction. They surrounded him and one of them said, "Brother, have you any money or not?"

WATCH IDENTIFIED

When he replied in the negative two of them caught him by the wrists, and a third took his fountain pen from his pocket and another his watch, leaving part of the chain behind. (He identified the watch produced in Court as his).

He then blew a police whistle which he carried in his pocket and the robbers ran away through La Salle Road into Prince Edward Road. He chased them, blowing his whistle, when a policeman joined him and arrested the first accused in his presence. It was too dark for him to identify any of the men but he knew there were five.

Chan Wah, a policeman attached to the Flying Squad, who arrested the first accused said that as the man was running he threw something away. The spot was searched and a watch found.

Wong Ming, constable 439, said he was in the police party that arrested the second accused. He cautioned the second accused before asking him to make a statement. The second accused made the following statement, "Yes, we five went last night. It is Ah Kong (fifth accused) who told us to go and rob."

"FIVE OF US WENT"

The constable then related how the second accused led the police party to 39, Austin Road where the third accused was arrested. Second accused, after being cautioned made the following statement, "It is not myself alone who went. They too (pointing at first and second accused) also took part. Altogether five of us went." The second accused was there at the time but said nothing.

They were then taken to 30, Shanghai Street, ground floor where fourth accused was arrested. He made the following statement, "I cannot be helped. You have arrested us. I've nothing to say."

The constable, cross-examined by accused, denied that he had threatened or intimidated them into making the statements. He also denied second accused's allegation that he (second accused) had been taken out into the street by the constable and assaulted.

The constable's evidence was corroborated by Sgt. C. Dowman and Wan Sal-lee, interpreter at Kowloon City Police Station.

ACCUSED TESTIFY

On the three men on trial being told by His Lordship that they may (a) either let their case go to the jury as it stood, (b) make a statement to the Court from the dock, or (c) go into the witness stand and give evidence on their own behalf, they elected to take the third course and each one in turn gave evidence.

Each one of them said that he had been invited by the first accused to accompany him to Kowloon City where he wanted to see a friend. On their way back, first accused, who was in need of some money to get back to his village and see his mother, suddenly decided to rob a passer-by. They denied taking any part in the robbery. They saw first accused go up to complainant, and snatch something. They did not know what it was. Second accused reiterated his allegations that he had been assaulted by the police.

Mr. Erasmus U. S. Alves, and his bride, formerly Miss Virginia C. B. de Gardner, after their marriage at St. Teresa's Church, Kowloon Tong, on Sunday afternoon. The Rev. Fr. A. Granelli officiated.

SNATCHER CHASED AND CAUGHT

Sentence of three months' hard labour was passed by Mr. Q. A. A. Macfadyen at Kowloon Court yesterday on a 20-year-old Chinese, Wong Yan, who was convicted of having snatched a handbag from a European woman, Mrs. W. E. Kirby, in Nathan Road on Saturday evening. Defendant was chased and caught in Parks Street by Mr. Lewis Chan.

Going into the witness stand, first accused, corroborated the evidence given by the second, third and fourth accused, and said he was formerly a carpenter but was unemployed at the time. He wanted some money to go and see his mother. Suddenly, when he saw the complainant coming, he got an impulse to commit the offence. He was very sorry he had done so. The three others had nothing to do with it.

ASSAULT ALLEGATION

He explained his reason for taking the police to the second accused by saying that he was beaten by the police and forced to disclose the other four whom complainant said were with him. Cross-examined by Mr. Gould, he said the others were reluctant to go but he insisted on their going because he wanted company.

Mr. Gould—Was fifth accused not sufficient company that you wanted three others with you?

Kwong Ming-yip (first accused)—I preferred a number to chat with.

Mr. Gould—When you had a sudden inclination to rob, you made no mention of it to anyone?

Kwong Ming-yip—Fifth accused joined of his own accord. He only took the fountain pen which I passed to him. I seized the complainant alone and he (complainant) offered no resistance. The other accused were past the spot. I was nearest to the complainant, who was on the foot path. Others were walking in the middle of the road.

HIT WITH CANE

First accused then alleged that he had been beaten on the chest, and back by a Chinese detective and on the elbow with a cane by a European sergeant.

His Lordship then made his charge to the jury in a few words and after an absence of 15 minutes the jury returned their verdict as stated.

The fifth accused's father then pleaded that his son had been a good boy all this time and was still going to school being only 18 years old.

"The boy was very good until he

AN UNLICENSED MASSAGE ESTABLISHMENT

Shanghai Chinese Fined $150

The fact that massage establishments were referred to as either brothels or depots for the supply of prostitutes, was revealed by Mr. F. W. Shaftain, Assistant Director of Criminal Intelligence (Crime), when he appeared for the prosecution in a case in which Tso Siu-yu, 21, a Shanghai Chinese, was charged with keeping an unlicensed massage establishment on the ground floor of No. 127 Lockhart Road, before Mr. R. A. D. Forrest at the Central Court yesterday.

Mr. Shaftain said the premises were raided by Sub-Inspector J. Orem at 9.40 p.m. on Saturday, when a number of escort girls and males were found on the premises. Before the police took action, said Mr. Shaftain, a number of detectives were despatched to investigate the matter, and as a result, they had proof that these places were either brothels or depots for the supply of prostitutes.

THE PENALTY

With regard to the penalty, Mr. Shaftain referred to a similar case at the Kowloon Magistracy recently when the fine was $150, whereas in cases which have come before Mr. Forrest, fines of $10 were imposed.

Mr. Forrest remarked that the charge was one of keeping an unlicensed massage establishment and he could only deal with it as such.

Mr. Shaftain: With all the respect, I think that, in view of your Worship's known attitude, your mind may be a little prejudiced in the matter.

CASE TRANSFERRED

Mr. Forrest replied that he did not think that his mind was prejudiced, but suggested that, in view of the circumstances, the case be transferred to another Court for hearing. This was agreed by Mr. Shaftain. The case was then transferred to Mr. Edwards' Court, and the defendant was fined $150.

joined bad company," he said. "He has never given any trouble."

Mr. Justice Lindsell—Why do you suggest your son was led into this?

The father—His friends suggested this. Before he went out he asked me for permission to go and drink sweet water.

On the father undertaking to guarantee the boy's good behaviour in a sum of $100 for one year, Mr. Justice Lindsell passed sentence on him as stated.

TAXPAYERS' MONEY

To the Editor, Hongkong
Daily Press

Sir.—The Saturday Editorial of one of your contemporaries on "the Revenue of Thrift" prompted me to spend my spare time last week-end to glance at the Hongkong Civil Service List for 1939.

I wholeheartedly agree that "the Civil Service is overloaded with highly paid officers and starved of local men on dollar salaries." The next thing that struck me was the conveyance allowances liberally granted to the already highly paid officers.

I noticed that 40 nursing sisters are allowed $90 each per annum for conveyance allowances. The sisters' quarters are just a stone's throw from their respective hospitals and besides being provided with "free quarters, fuel and light" should they be provided further with more of the taxpayers' money?

Why is it that the Medical Officer in charge of one of the three Government controlled hospitals be given $360 per annum for conveyance allowance when he works only in that particular hospital? Why is it also that a Health Officer is allowed $120 per annum for conveyance allowance when Government launches can take him to any part of the harbour?

This leads me to ask on what basis are conveyance allowances granted. It is common knowledge that officers provided with conveyance allowances are also given free use of Government-owned cars. With petrol at $1.60 per gallon a tidy sum of the taxpayers' money must have been expended not including repairs, chauffeurs' wages, etc.

This prompts me to ask why Government officers should be provided with tax free petrol. I suppose cars owned by Government servants are not considered luxuries.

I understand there are in the Medical Department 3 doctors whose qualifications are not registrable in Hongkong nor in any part of the British Empire. I am at a loss why this should be so when people with similar qualifications are not allowed to practise here.

FACTS ARE FACTS.

UNAUTHORISED
ALLEGED

Charged on three counts of obtaining money by false pretences, Lei Chi-ming, 22, and Chung Yuk-chuen, 20, were remanded until tomorrow when they appeared before Mr. R. A. D. Forrest at the Central Magistracy yesterday.

It is alleged that defendants pretended they were authorised to collect subscriptions for the China Youth Association, and to have collected a sum of $3 from three different persons in Shing Wo Road, Happy Valley, on Saturday.

TATHONG CHANNEL

Commencing on Monday, Nov. 20, all small craft (including lighters) constructed of iron or steel and wooden craft, if loaded with iron or steel, are prohibited from proceeding South of the Anti-Submarine Boom or North of a line drawn across the entrance to the Tathong Channel from Cape d'Agulhar towards the South Nine Pin Island in a direction 060°, without special permission.

Any of the above craft wishing to use this portion of the Tathong Channel should apply for permission to the Naval Authorities.

conditions in Free China will recognize these measures as a positive advance.

IN THE WIDER political sphere, sympathetic observers of Chinese affairs will note with satisfaction the declarations of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek and of the Communist Party that the local conflicts which have arisen in various places between Kuomintang and Communists are not the result of any fundamental friction and will not be allowed to endanger the unity that has made it possible, and will continue to make it possible, for all Chinese to wholeheartedly apply their energies to the main task of anti-Japanese resistance.

THERE'S A WAR ON

A rare visitor to our night office walked in yesterday evening and, having picked up the daily message stating that "No changes took place on the front last night" was inspired to the following outburst:

No important changes on the front last night. It's true there's a war on, but, bless you, we don't fight. The boys are in France and the weather's fine. There's a sit-down strike on the Slegfried Line.

The gun-mouths gape and their thunders sound. And throughout the Reich there's no better found. But Field-Marshal Goering is no less stout. And Chamberlain—he's in bed with gout.

The boys are picketing the Slegfried Line. Come out to the front. The weather's fine. The censor says we can't tell you more.

The peace was hell, but it's a nice quiet war.

WARM TRIBUTE
PAID BY JUDGESnatching Sequel
At Sessions

Warm tribute was paid by Mr. Justice Lindsell yesterday in the Criminal Sessions to Mr. Victor Karpusheff for his public spirit in chasing and effecting the capture of a prisoner who had snatched a handbag from a woman in Kowloon, recently.

"On behalf of the community I would like to congratulate you... it was an excellent action on your part," said His Lordship.

The case was one in which a man named Wu Kai was charged with robbery with violence. He snatched a handbag from a woman and gave a her blow with his fist. He admitted the offence and said he was driven to it by hunger.

His Lordship passed sentence of six months and 12 strokes of the birch.

EXPLORATION OF 'NO MAN'S LAND' CONTINUES: MORE
ENEMY PATROLS REPORTED

PARIS, Nov. 20 (Reuter's Special War Service)—The number of enemy patrols was greater yesterday than in the last few days, according to M. Charles Morice, writing in Petit Parisien.

Little Action
In Progress
Of The War

LONDON, NOV. 20 (REUTER)—WAR SEEMS TO BE GOING ON IN EVERY CHANCELLERY, LEGATION AND COUNCIL ROOM, BUT WITH LITTLE INCIDENT ON LAND, SEA OR IN THE AIR, SAID THE B.B.C. MILITARY OBSERVER, SPEAKING OVER DAVENTRY YESTERDAY. There is talk on both sides and threat from one—but little apparent action.

One fact is that Herr Hitler and Herr von Ribbentrop are queuing in every direction and working out plan after plan, only to be told by their soldiers and airmen that the plan will not work.

NAVY'S "LEFT" The neutrals are less alarmed than they were, while the Allies are covering up and unleashing a left poke to the body every now and again.

Needless to say, this "left" is the navy, which is fighting the enemy steadily and remorselessly and with a wearing-off effect. The really vital sphere at the moment is the sea and it is here that the enemy is losing most decisively.

AIR ACTIVITY There is also rather more air activity. The most interesting event, of course, has been the raid on the Shetlands by four aircraft, which dropped bombs doing only trifling damage on Nov. 13. This was the first raid in which bombs were actually dropped on British soil. It was probably an experiment to see how the bombers carried their loads over that long distance and how they fared.

"PROBABLY" DAMAGED As they got away, the German propaganda machine has made much of the fight and circulated a quite unfounded tale that British flying boats were destroyed and a cruiser "probably" damaged.

That word "probably" is an unusually neat touch, as it almost—but not quite—gives the air of reality to a cock-and-bull story. There may be some more air raids at the next full moon.

The R.A.F. has carried out a series of daylight raids over Germany, not without loss it is true, but bringing back over one hundred detailed photographs of objectives, including aerodromes, as trophies.

ON LAND On land nothing much has happened, save in one case when a German battalion broke into a French outpost line, only to come under costly fire from the heavy artillery of the Maginot Line.

WAR COMMUNIQUE PARIS, Nov. 20 (Reuter)—A French war communique stated that yesterday was a quiet day with local artillery action.

During the last four weeks of the war, the tonnage of German merchantmen captured on the high seas by our patrols exceeded by several thousand tons the tonnage of French merchantmen lost through enemy action.

Exploration of 'No Man's Land' continued from the Apach region to the west of the Lower Vosges and was particularly insistent on the sectors east of the Moselle, Nied and Blies.

Hidden machine-guns had to open violent fire to cause the patrols to retreat. On the banks of the Blies one unit, which advanced too near our small posts, lost half of its number killed.

German pursuit planes were also more active and, without apparent reason, unceasingly flew over the French lines near Wissembourg.

NOTHING IMPORTANT PARIS, Nov. 20 (Reuter)—A War Communique issued today says that there was nothing important to report during the night.

ITALY'S STRONG
DENIAL

ROME, Nov. 20 (Reuter)—The reports that Italy informed the German Government that she was interested in preserving the neutrality of Belgium and Holland are authoritatively denied here.

ITALY SUSTAIN'S
FIRST WAR LOSS

LONDON, Nov. 20 (Reuter)—Just before midnight yesterday, news was received in London that three more ships had been sunk off the east coast of the British Isles in circumstances similar to the Simon Bolivar outrage. Two of them are neutrals, and one British.

The Italian steamer Gracia (5,800 tons) was Italy's first shipping loss of the war.

Another victim was the Swedish freighter Borgholm, of 1,500 tons, and a British steamer, a craft of 2,500 tons.

Full details of the sinkings are not yet known and there is no information yet regarding the loss of life.

In the meantime, it is revealed that only one hundred persons are now thought to have lost their lives in the Simon Bolivar disaster, less than the number originally feared.

It is, however, revealed that no fewer than forty-four of the missing passengers are British.

The victims in the hospital in London were visited by the Netherlands Minister yesterday.

CREW LANDED LONDON, Nov. 20 (Reuter)—Twenty-two members of the crew of the mined steamer Blackhill, including the captain, were landed at an English port and also 13 survivors of the Scandinavian vessel, Borgholm, including eight injured.

It is believed that six others have been lost. A Yugoslav steamer, the Carica Milica, of 6,000 tons, was also mined and sunk off the east coast.

OLDEST STORY IN WORLD TOLD
BEFORE JURY AT SESSIONS:
SHOP COOLIE FOUND GUILTY
OF SOLICITING FOR MURDERMANSLAUGHTER
SENTENCES

3 Men, 3 Days,
3 Months

Three pleas of guilty to manslaughter charges were considered by Mr. Justice R. E. Lindsell at the Criminal Sessions yesterday when he sentenced two of the accused to three months' hard labour, and the third to three days.

The three men sentenced were Lo Tong, Yu Wai-tim and Lai Kwong. The first named was charged with the manslaughter of Li Wing who died following a fight between some boot blacks outside the Silver Dragon Restaurant, Des Voeux Road, at about 10 p.m. on Sept. 30.

Lo Tong was alleged to have struck the deceased in the stomach as a result of which he collapsed spitting out blood and died later at the Queen Mary Hospital. Lo was sentenced to three days with effect from last Friday.

Yu Wai-tim was charged with the manslaughter of Man Kam-hoi over a gambling debt which led to the accused picking up the deceased and bumping his head on the cement pavement in Wanchai on Sept. 23. Yu Kam-hoi died of a broken neck.

Lai Kwong pleaded guilty to the manslaughter of a man on Oct. 7.

PROMPT POLICE
ACTIONUgly Situation
Averted

What might have developed into a very ugly situation was averted by the prompt arrival of the Police Emergency Unit at 82, Robinson Road last night when about 200 mendicants assumed a threatening attitude and might have stormed the building, at which stones were being thrown, when the police arrived.

It appears that the residents of the house in question had been feeding destitutes for some days past, and yesterday for the first time, and for some unexplained reason, the practice was discontinued.

Enraged at this and forgetting the gratitude they owed to those whose charity they had been receiving, the mendicants resorted to stone-throwing and riotous conduct. They dispersed when the police arrived and quiet was restored in a short time.

GIRL GUIDE SENT TO PRISON

Pleading guilty to a charge of larceny of $500 in Chinese currency from So Siu-siu, dancing girl, a 21-year-old girl guide was sentenced to four months' hard labour, when she appeared before Mr. T. J. Houston at the Central Magistracy yesterday.

The defendant, Shung, was alleged to have extracted the money from under So's pillow while she was asleep. A portion of the money was recovered.

AMAH'S FIGHT,
FINED, WARNED

Two amahs, employed by European Police officers, residing at Kowloon City Police Station, appeared on a disorderly conduct charge before Mr. E. Himsforth at Kowloon Court yesterday.

They were accused of fighting and throwing water at one another on Saturday. The defendants, Wong Yin and Fung Yee, were fined $1 each and were cautioned to be of good behaviour.

CROWN LAND SALE

At a public auction of Crown land held at the P.W.D. Office yesterday, Inland Lot No. 5711, adjoining Inland Lot No. 4993, Blue Pool Road, Wong Nei Chong, comprising an area of 20,800 square feet, was sold to Mrs. Ho Yuck-yu, of 3, Yuk Sau Street, Hongkong at the upset price of $10,400, there being no bidding.

Man's "Burning Passion"
For Wife Of A Clerk:
Plot Revealed To Police

"THE STORY WE HAVE HEARD IS ONE OF THE OLDEST IN THE WORLD," remarked the Chief Justice, Sir Atholl MacGregor, during his summing-up after successive witnesses, at the Criminal Sessions yesterday, had told the Court of how a man, who felt for another person's wife a "burning passion of the highest intensity" and whose relationship with her it was difficult for his Lordship to believe was an innocent and platonic one, made efforts to induce four persons to murder the woman's husband.

The case was that in which a 32-year-old shop coolie named LI WO, alias HO HAM, was charged on two counts of soliciting or attempting to procure persons to murder MAK CHI-CHUN, a timber merchant's clerk.

Accused's defence was a complete denial of guilt. He alleged that a number of the Crown's witnesses had conspired to bring a false charge against him.

"They are my friends," he said. "I don't know why they want to tell such a story about me."

Accused, was, however, unanimously found guilty on both counts, after a retirement of half-an-hour, by the jury, which consisted of Messrs. N. A. Tonoff (foreman), Teng Tung, C. A. Lopes, Yu Tze-ling, Wong Kin-kwong, Wong Kai-cho and Sung Sheung-kwong.

Mr. J. B. Prentis, Assistant Crown Solicitor, prosecuted, assisted by Detective Inspector A. E. Carey. The woman, Lum May-yung, who appeared in Court for purposes of identification by various witnesses, did not give evidence. Her husband, Mak Chi-chun, was the first witness called.

FOUR CHILDREN

He said that he was employed by the Wong Tong Kee firm, timber merchants, and had been married to Lum May-yung for ten years. They had four children.

On July 20, continued witness, he returned home unexpectedly at noon and discovered accused and his wife chatting familiarly in the verandah. His wife said that the accused, who left the house immediately, was her cousin. Later he and his wife had a quarrel as she always went out.

At 7 a.m. on October 8 he found his wife and accused having tea at the Kong Ning teahouse. His wife left after he told her he objected to her keeping company with accused, with whom he also spoke. He asked why accused was chasing after her, and accused replied that it had nothing to do with witness.

Mak said that accused threatened him, told him not to interfere and that if he did, he would take his wife.

Ma Sau, master of the Wing Kwong paper shop, then told the Court that accused asked him on September 27 to procure two men to attack some person. Accused, said witness, confessed that it had something to do with his sweetheart.

TWO CARPENTERS

Next day, he introduced accused at the Tai Ching teahouse to Yeung Wah and Yeung Choi, two carpenters. Accused asked the Yeungs whether they would agree to kill his sweetheart's husband for a money consideration. The Yeungs refused.

Ma's evidence was corroborated by Yeung Wah and Yeung Choi. The former said he told accused that he was willing to strike or assault a person for a consideration, but he would not go to the length of killing anybody, not even for $10,000.

Ng Kwong, an earth coolie, said that accused went to his house on September 29 and said that he had a friend working in the Peninsula Hotel who wanted to have someone killed. Witness asked accused how much his friend would pay for the work, and accused said between $30 and $40. Witness said that the sum was too low, and mentioned $80 or $90. Accused, said witness, at once offered him $70.

Next day, they met at the Tai Foo Kwai teahouse and accused paid him an advance of $10. They later arranged to go to the Wong Tong Kee firm so that the man who was to be killed could be identified.

On October 3, continued witness, he told the accused that he was afraid he could not carry out the plan all by himself and suggested Ng Hoi as an assistant. Accused went with the woman to his house next day and there witness introduced him to Ng Hoi.

On the way that evening to the Wong Tong Kee firm, accused gave witness and Ng Hoi $17 as expenses. They waited outside the timber firm till very late and saw the person who had been pointed out to them leave the premises and take a bus.

As they did not carry out the plan to kill the man, accused was very angry the next day, said witness. A few days later, all three, including accused, went and bought flies from a marine hawk in Cheungshawan. Accused paid 28 cents for the instruments and arranged with witness and Ng Hoi to meet him at 5 p.m. that day in Tung Choi Street.

TOLD PLOT TO POLICE

Ng Kwong stated that he then went with Ng Hoi to the Yau-mat police station and told the police of the plot. As the result of instructions, he went to Tung Choi Street about 7 p.m. that evening. Accused arrived bringing the two flies which he, by patting his body, indicated were concealed in his girdle. The police then came up and searched accused and took them all to the station.

Ng Hoi corroborated, and Fung Kam, the marine hawk, also testified to having sold two flies for 28 cents about the period in question. Li Wo elected to make his defence in the witness-box, where he said that he was a friend of Mak Chi-chun, whom a third person informed him objected to his going about with his wife. On hearing this, accused said, he arranged for a meeting at the Tai Foo Kwai teahouse with Mak and his wife. There the matter was talked over clearly, and Mak was made to understand that there was nothing between his wife and accused.

He said that the woman went to look for him in connection with a loan of $30 which she had lent to a seafaring man who was expected to return shortly. When they went to the teahouse for tea, they were not alone, there being two others present. Mak arrived and kicked up a row, but later the matter was explained, and they all returned to Mak's house where they chatted in a friendly manner for some time.

PURCHASE DENIED

Cross-examined by Mr. Prentis as to why he bought the two flies, accused denied having made such purchase.

How is it that they were found on your person?—They were brought to me by Ng Kwong about 2 p.m. on that day.

Why were you carrying them about?—Ng Kwong asked me to take them to Fa Yuen Street at 6 p.m.

Why did he want you to do this?—I don't know why he wanted me to do this. I promised to do it, as we were friends.

Answering further questions, accused said Ng Kwong told him he was going to fight someone. He did not question Ng whom he was going to fight.

After His Lordship had summed up, the jury retired and returned a verdict of guilty on both counts. Accused was then sentenced to four years' hard labour, concurrently, on each count.

SINKING OF SIMON BOLIVAR BIGGEST NON-NAVAL DISASTER OF PRESENT WAR

Survivors Describe Scenes On Board

LONDON, Nov. 20 (Reuter).—The sinking of the Simon Bolivar is clearly a breach of international law," said Mr. I. Jennings in the course of a broadcast on the legal aspects of the disaster, speaking over davenport yesterday. The Dutch Government, he said, would be entitled to make the very strongest of protests to Berlin.

The laying of mines was covered by the Eighth Hague Convention, which was signed by Britain, France, Germany and other Powers in 1907. This convention makes a distinction between anchored and unanchored mines. Unanchored mines must be so made as to render themselves harmless one hour after being laid. Anchored mines must not be laid unless they are of the type which renders itself harmless on breaking loose.

Seven Ships Sunk Off East Coast

LONDON, Nov. 20 (Reuter).—The number of ships now sunk by mines in the North Sea totals seven, the latest addition being the British collier Torchbearer.

Four of the crew of 13 landed on the East Coast were badly injured while nine were missing.

In addition to the Simon Bolivar, according to an official announcement, the following ships have been sunk by German mines off the East Coast:—

The Italian liner GRACIA, in which five were killed and 16 are missing as the result of an explosion;

The Swedish steamer BORJESSEN, in which it is believed six lives were lost and eight persons were injured;

The British ship BLACKHILL, from which 22 survivors have been landed; and

The Yugoslav vessel CARICA MILICA, the fate of the crew of which is not known.

The press in the Netherlands, owing to the delicate position of Holland's neutrality, has still not commented on the sinking of the Simon Bolivar but pays tribute to the British rescue work.

The ex-Kaiser sent a message of sympathy to Queen Wilhelmina.

NAZI EFFORTS

BERLIN, Nov. 20 (Reuter).—Newspapers here are making elaborate efforts to disprove Germany's guilt in the sinking of the Simon Bolivar, asserting that the disaster was caused by a British mine.

Nine Killed, 20 Injured

TRAIN CRASH IN BERLIN SUBURB

AMSTERDAM, Nov. 20 (Reuter).—Nine persons were killed and twenty injured yesterday afternoon when the Hamburg express crashed into the rear of a local train standing in the station of a Berlin suburb. No explanation of the mishap is forthcoming.

Another mishap occurred as the Simplon Orient express was nearing Belgrade when a fire broke out in one of the coaches and spread rapidly before the express was saved after it had taken fire.

COMMUNAL RIOT IN BOMBAY

BOMBAY, Nov. 20 (Reuter).—Six Hindus and five Moslems were killed in a serious communal riot in the Bombay Presidency yesterday.

The disturbance began when Hindu shops were set on fire by Moslems. Curfew has been imposed in the district.

NAZI PLANE CRASHES IN NORTHERN ITALY

LONDON, Nov. 20 (Reuter).—A German military plane crashed yesterday in Northern Italy. No explanation of its presence in the area is forthcoming.

Two of the four members of the crew were arrested by the Italian authorities, but the other two escaped and are the object of a watch on the border.

DEATH OF SIR WM. PROUT

Tropical Diseases Expert Served In Egypt

LONDON, Nov. 20 (Reuter).—The death has occurred of Sir William Thomas Prout, K.C.M.G., O.B.E., M.B., C.M. (Edin.), the tropical diseases expert, late Honorary Physician, Hospital for Tropical Diseases, London.

Sir William, who was Lieut.-Col. in the Royal Army Medical Corps, and a Fellow of the Society of Tropical Medicine and Hygiene, and of the Royal Medical Society of Edinburgh, retired in 1935 he was Principal Medical Officer in Sierra Leone.

Educated at private schools and at the University of Edinburgh, Sir William graduated in 1884 and subsequently held the following appointments:—Assistant Poorlaw Medical Officer, Mauritius; Assistant Colonial Surgeon, Gold Coast; District Commissioner, Gold Coast; Colonial Surgeon, Gambia; Acting Chief Magistrate. (1893); Medical Officer in charge of the base hospital during the campaign against Foday Silla (1894); J. P. and Official Member of the Legislative Council; Member of City Council, Freetown; Medical Officer of Health, Freetown, etc.

EGYPT SERVICE

Sir William, who was knighted in 1924 and created K.C.M.G. four years later, served in Egypt and was mentioned twice in despatches.

Sir William's publications included Elementary Hygiene and Sanitation in the Tropics and many papers in medical journals. The late Sir William Prout was Hon. Lecturer, School of Tropical Medicine, University of Liverpool, late Senior Consulting Physician to the Colonial Office, and a member of the Colonial Advisory Medical and Sanitary Committee, Colonial Office.

Revolution In Germany Due Soon?

PREDICTION BY HITLER'S "WORST ENEMY"

PARIS, NOV. 20 (REUTER).—GERMANY WILL SOON BE READY FOR AN ANTI-HITLER REVOLUTION, DECLARED HERR OTTO STRASSER, KNOWN AS "HITLER'S WORST ENEMY," IN AN INTERVIEW WITH THE PARIS SOIR.

Herr Strasser said he was given four hours to leave Switzerland after the Munich explosion, because the Germans were demanding his extradition, describing him as the instigator of the crime.

Herr Strasser, who is the leader of the anti-Nazi Black Front since the Nazis murdered his brother, declared that he thought at first that his friends had organised the Munich attempt, but now he considered that it could only have been caused by the Gestapo.

THREE CONDITIONS

Before a revolution in Germany, three conditions were necessary, namely: Germans who still believe in Herr Hitler must feel the horrors of war; the Reich must suffer a military check; and privations must become more biting.

"I consider these conditions will be fulfilled by the spring of 1940," he declared.

WAR SECRETARY IN FRANCE

PARIS, Nov. 20 (Reuter).—Mr. Leslie Hore-Belisha, Secretary for War, who spent two days with the British Expeditionary Force in the front lines, is meeting M. Daladier, French Prime Minister, and Gen. Gamelin, C-in-C. of the Allied Armies, today.

ARRESTS & MURDERS HAVE GIVEN CZECHS A SACRED CAUSE THEY WILL NEVER FORGET

NEW YORK, Nov. 20 (Reuter).—

Commenting on Germany's mass arrests of Czechs, the New York Times says that now that the Germans have shown their dragon's teeth, they have given the Czechs a sacred cause which they will never forget. When the time comes, the Czechs will rise and strike and the young men who have just died will march at the head of their battalions.

FLAGS LOWERED

The Czech Legation in Washington and the Czech Consulates throughout the United States lowered their flags to half-mast when they received the sad news of the murder of the Czech youths by the Nazis.

Such an action for ordinary citizens has not been carried out for many years.

50,000 ARRESTS

PARIS, Nov. 20, (Reuter).—Fifty-thousand arrests were made in Bohemia and Moravia since Friday, according to a despatch from the Austrian frontier, which reported that the arrests included "certain political personages."

Posthumous Honours For Commander

SHUIKWAN, Nov. 20 (Central).—More than 400 senior military officers, headed by Generals Chang Fa-kwei and Yu Han-mou, attended a public sacrificial service for the late Kwangtung army commander, General Tam Jui, at an undisclosed place yesterday.

General Chang Fa-kwei, officiating at the ceremony, delivered an address in which he extolled the virtues of the late commander and enjoined his officers to continue their efforts to resist the invaders in the spirit of the deceased general.

ITALY CAN KEEP OUT OF WAR

ROME, Nov. 20 (Reuter).—Signor Gayda, writing in Voce d'Italia, said that the progress of Italy's economic self-sufficiency was such that it was possible for her to keep out of the war.

Italy still has under arms the four classes called up last August and now has approximately one and a half million men ready.

CZECH PEOPLE

not worth living. The Czechs stand now as they have stood before in history for national and moral values against a race of bullies who have tried to expel the spiritual life even from their own national system.

"They stand, and they suffer for freedom of speech and freedom of combination and for the right of a small country to live in security and independence. These are the liberties which Britain and France and all nations of the British Commonwealth are determined to see re-established in Europe and which lend to their campaign the character of a crusade."

Under the heading, "Threats and realities," the Daily Telegraph views the Czech situation in the pattern of Nazi promises and performances and states that it is the fear of an enchained people which had driven Herr Hitler "to new convulsions of fury."

GERMAN POLICY

Reviewing the German policy during the war, the editorial says, "Every week of the war has seen Germany going through the motions of frightfulness in a different direction." If threats were facts Europe would now be at Germany's feet. Although the oft threatened mass attack has not yet happened Britain stands prepared to meet Ribbentrop's "truly horrible war."

The Daily Herald, hailing the Czechs as allies, says, "All other peoples as they look on will be strengthened even further in their determination not to allow the monstrous apparatus of terror, now tormenting Central Europe, to survive one day longer than it must."

BETTER ARMY FOR CHINA

Big Response To Govt's Call

SHANGHAI, Nov. 20 (Reuter).—The Chinese Government's effort to build up a new and better army to carry on the war of resistance against Japan is said to be meeting with considerable success, especially in Free China.

Having been persuaded to discard their traditional indifference to soldiery, the better class Chinese, including officials and students, are reported to be flocking to the colours in many areas in the interior, notably in Szechuen, in answer to the Government's call for men.

SONS GIVEN UP

What is said to be more amazing is that parents, giving up all ideas of ancestor worship and the necessity of protecting the line, are placing their only sons at the disposal of the authorities.

As a result, numerous homes throughout Free China to-day proudly display "honourable family" plates, awarded by the Government to all families which have men volunteering for service in the army.

In order to make volunteering attractive, free schools and children protection bureaus have been established to care for the families of the new soldiers.

NAZIS LEAVING TURKEY

ANKARA, Nov. 20 (Reuter).—The German Military and Naval Mission has left Turkey for home. It is reported that an order for their return was made personally by Herr Hitler himself.

Many Germans, both officials and private individuals, have already left Turkey.

EX-KAISER'S ESCAPE

DOORN, Nov. 20 (Reuter).—It is revealed that the ex-Kaiser narrowly escaped death, while walking in the park on Sunday morning, when three giant trees, uprooted in a storm, crashed eight feet from him.

STOLE MILITARY CABLES

In passing sentence of ten weeks' hard labour at the Central Court yesterday on Ho Sai-cheong, 25, for stealing 18 cables of cables, the property of the Military authorities, Mr. T. J. Houston said: "There are many countries, including your own, where people are shot for interfering with civil, let alone military communications."

The Ping was sentenced to six months' hard labour for receiving the stolen goods.

The cables were laid by the Military authorities in Aberdeen.

Peasants Maintain Strict Boycott Against Invaders: Work Of Chinese Women

CHUNGKING, NOV. 20 (CENTRAL).—STRIKING SKETCHES OF LIFE BEYOND THE JAPANESE LINES HAVE BEEN BROUGHT BACK BY THE FORMER NANKING MAYOR, MR. MA CHAO-CHUN, WHO LED A "COMFORT" CORPS TOURING TEN PROVINCES IN SOUTH-EASTERN CHINA.

Despite the nominal Japanese occupation of a part of the province, Chekiang on the eastern seaboard has collected $38,000,000 of revenue in the past fiscal year, an all-time high for that province. Administrative efficiency and progress in agriculture and industry were responsible for the remarkable financial accomplishment.

Farm products in most districts in the South-east have doubled in the past three years, according to Mr. Ma. In addition to the usual southern crops, the farmers found great profits in planting under the supervision of government experts, wheat, kaoliang, peanuts, potatoes and cotton on semi-arid and hilly land.

Famed products such as silk from Soochow and Wush, tea from Anhwei also registered prevailing increase.

BOYCOTT BY PEASANTS

A spontaneous boycott, Mr. Ma said, is maintained by the peasants against the invaders. Instead of selling their product for $70 per picul, as offered by the Japanese, silk producers in Soochow and Wush accepted a considerably lower price of $50 from their own people.

War-time industrial projects are so enthusiastically supported by the people that they offer to work 12 hours a day. Their handicraft products are warding off Japanese dumpings.

Next to general prosperity, Mr. Ma was impressed with the results of the various phases of training.

WOMEN WORKERS

"American, English and French women who volunteered for war service in the last World War, Mr. Ma said, would blush if they should see what their Chinese sisters are doing in Kwangtung, Kwangsi, Hunan, and other places. Chinese women do not hesitate to take up such masculine tasks as defence construction and highway destruction."

He remarked that the training process is simplified itself: officers train soldiers, who in turn train the people. The civilians have ample opportunity for their training on account of their constant contact with the Army.

He disclosed that two-thirds of the men in Chekiang have completed their military training and are ready to answer the nation's call.

On his 8,000-mile journey Mr. Ma saw the emergence of a new Chinese Army, better trained, better equipped, and as hardy and puritan as before.

CLAY STATUES OF WANG & HIS WIFE AS "WARNING"

KWEILIN, Nov. 20 (Central).—Clay statues of Wang Ching-mai, ousted Kuomintang leader, and his wife will be erected at the park in Wuchuan, on the Liu River in Eastern Kwangsi, to serve as a "warning" to traitors.

The slogan "Punish the Traitors!" will be inscribed on a tablet beside the statues.

PEOPLE'S NATIONAL ASSEMBLY

CHUNGKING, Nov. 20 (Int'l).—Among the important agenda on the present session of the Kuomintang Central Executive Committee and Central Supervisory Committee is the fixing of a date for the convocation of the People's National Assembly.

A tentative date is set for November 12 next year, and a vote will be taken today when the session will come to a close. The Assembly is to usher in constitutional government.

60 YEARS AS PERFECT NURSE

It was a great day for 15-year-old Amelia Taylor when she left the quiet of a Devon village to live in London.

That was 66 years ago. That year—1873—saw the invention of the typewriter, the Ashantee War, the death of Napoleon III.

Miss Taylor, now aged 81, has now celebrated her 60th year as nurse-companion to Mrs. H. Moore, aged 87, and her family at Mortlake-road, Kew.

"I am still as fond of nursing and children as the day I started," Miss Taylor said. "In spite of my 81 years, I can still do a full day's housework and enjoy it."

"She is the perfect nurse," said a friend of the family.

THE MOVEMENT OF GOODS THROUGH PORTS

It is announced that the Minister of Transport has appointed a Port Emergency Committee at each of the principal commercial ports in Great Britain, with a view to securing efficiency in the movement of goods.

Each Committee has been given wide powers under the Control of Traffic at Ports Order, 1939, and, in particular, will be able to prevent any undue congestion of traffic by the imposition of penalties and by the physical removal of goods to alternative places of storage.

Each Committee is generally composed of representatives of the Port Authority, of shippers, or traders, and of labour, as well as of the forms of transport serving the port.

ALL POSSIBLE STEPS
In making this announcement, the Minister particularly appeals to traders to take all possible steps to secure the rapid passage of their goods through the ports.

As regards imports, the owner or consignee should maintain close touch with the shipowner to ascertain at which port the vessel may be expected. This may be different from the port to which the vessel was originally destined.

The owner or consignee should have the documents relating to his consignment at the port of discharge and should be prepared, either personally or through his agent or representative, to clear them quickly through the port to their inland destination and to utilize any means of transport which may be available and convenient.

REASONABLE DISCRETION
If an agent is employed, he should be given a reasonable discretion to deal with goods in circumstances they require.

Buddhist Monks In Salaried Appointments

The practice of Buddhist monks holding salaried appointments on the staffs of schools was condemned at a meeting held at Sri Saddharmabasha Pirivena, Udawattakelle, Kandy, with Mr. D. S. Senanayake presiding.

A local branch of the Ramahnyia Nikayakshaka Sabha was formed at the conclusion of the meeting.

Gate Mudaliyar Edmund Pelra condemned the practice of Buddhist monks holding salaried appointments on the staff of a school.

He was speaking, he said, of the infringements of the "Vinaya" by monks, and read two letters from the Principals of Ananda College and Dharmaraja College, saying that there were two monks on their staffs. He suggested that the practice should be put an end to.

In the course of his remarks, Mr. Senanayake deplored the deterioration of the priesthood in general, and said that in order to improve the state of the priesthood it was very necessary that the laity should receive a religious education.

As regards goods for export, the exporter or his agent should maintain close touch with the shipowner and generally speaking should not forward the goods to a port until he is satisfied that the vessel will be available.

The Committee should be approached through the general manager or chief executive of the port, and should not be troubled unnecessarily.

Owing to the war there will be no annual meeting of the British Medical Association next year. It was to have been held at Birmingham.

INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCE ON DOCUMENTATION

At the fifteenth International Conference of the International Federation for Documentation, which was held at Zurich matters were discussed of basic interest to engineers.

The need for the systematic collection and evaluation of existing technical literature, as a means of progress in research and invention was shown very clearly by M. W. Janick, of Zug, in a paper entitled "National and International Co-operation in Research and Documentation, with Special Reference to Electrical Engineering."

The engineer is concerned primarily with those activities that result in the conversion of natural resources into usable form.

MINIMUM EFFORT

The outstanding feature of fundamental importance in this conversion is that it shall be accomplished with the utmost efficiency, that is with the minimum waste of time, effort and materials.

Two basic factors determine the standard of efficiency; these are the quality of the staff or personnel available for each operation and the facilities which can be used for extending the boundaries of scientific knowledge and ensuring its fullest application.

Continual research is needed to apply every possible means in the most efficient and economic manner, and this must be based on comprehensive documentation. Thus, the field for research is very broad.

CHEMICAL SCIENCE

It embraces every physical and chemical science and ramifies into applications of materials, processes and technical methods.

It involves a continual appreciation of the significance of new scientific discovery and invention in relation to methods of measurement and of manufacture and concerns itself also with a study of the efficient use of human effort.

Thus it calls continuously for the critical analysis and evaluation of the vast bulk of literary material that is being published in the form of patents, articles in technical periodicals and scientific journals, pamphlets, laboratory reports, and other publications of technical or purely scientific character.

Lady Astor's Butler.—During a discussion in the Commons on the evacuation question, Mr. Sorensen (Soc., Leyton) said one woman who was sent to a big country house returned to her home because she did not like the way the butler looked at her. Mr. Sorensen: I see the hon. lady (Lady Astor) laughs. Perhaps she is afraid of her butler. On the other hand, I don't think she is afraid of anything. Lady Astor: He is a treasure.

While London children who had been evacuated were playing on the east cliff at Portland they heard a scream. They saw the push-chair in which was Reggie Cutler, a Portland child, aged 14 months, run away and fall over the edge of the 60ft. cliff. The child died two hours afterwards.

Under the "no contest" arrangement between the parties because of the war, Mr. Arthur Hugh Esdale Molson, "Conservative" candidate in the by-election, is expected to be the new member for the High Peak division of Derbyshire. He was formerly M.P. for Doncaster.

China's Trade Balance

FAVOURABLE TURN INDICATED

CHUNGKING, Nov. 20 (Central)—Indicating a definite favourable turn in China's foreign trade, customs returns for the port of Shanghai have changed from a heavy import-excess in the first eight months of the current year to an export-excess of $65,851,461 for September and October, according to figures just released by the Shanghai maritime customs.

These figures are particularly encouraging. It is pointed out in financial circles, since Shanghai had steadily shown heavy deficit in its foreign trade returns since the outbreak of the war.

OCTOBER'S IMPORTS
In October alone, the total imports amounted to $258,455,513 while exports, $306,932,621, representing an excess of $48,477,108 exports over imports.

It is expected that the trade returns for the current month will be more in China's favour.

The total imports from January to October were valued at $521,555,515 and the total exports $416,244,820, showing an excess of $105,310,659 imports over exports.

Imports during the period were largely cotton and cotton yarn while textile goods ranked first among the exports.

VOLUME OF CHINA'S TRADE SHOWS RISE

Favourable Balance Shown By Provinces Of Free China

China's volume of international trade which by the end of June, 1939, stood at $1,132,145,221, reached the $1,580,163,434 mark in August, according to official sources. In June and August of last year, the figures were only $764,916,860 and $1,066,616,399, respectively. In other words, the volume of China's foreign trade in the first eight months of 1939 increased by $493,547,035 over the corresponding period of last year.

The European war has thus far not affected China's international trade, and probably will but little, according to other sources. This is chiefly due to the fact that most of her native goods are marketed in the United States, while only a few necessities come from Europe. It is generally believed that China's trade balance will be greatly strengthened as a result of the National Government's ban against the importation of non-essential, foreign commodities.

The United States is second among China's markets, the first place being taken by Hongkong. Between January and August, 1939, the U.S. imported $99,499,000 worth of goods from China; Hongkong, $135,789,000. Following the enforcement of import restrictions, however, the U.S. purchased $19,624,501 worth of Chinese goods in August, and Hongkong purchased $18,112,171 worth. Japan, taking fourth place, imported $43,564,000 worth of Chinese goods during the eight-month period.

JAPANESE GOODS
In the period under review, Japanese goods valued at $226,208,000, were imported into the occupied areas of China. From America came $149,156,000 worth of goods, while from Germany, $70,350,000 worth. During the same period China imported $97,723,000 worth of goods from British India.

Between January and August, China imported cereals worth $159,659,459 and cotton and cotton yarn worth $128,590,156, while she exported animal products valued at $124,709,491. Fibers and mineral ores (including metals) netted China $78,849,467 and $72,640,423, respectively. The import of luxuries have registered a drastic drop. Although considerable quantities of imports and exports still pass through Shanghai, the customs houses in the free southwestern provinces are playing an important role in rebuilding China's trade. Unlike that in the occupied territory, trade in the free southwestern provinces shows a favourable balance.

Prices Rise In Japan

TENSE FINANCIAL POSITION

CHUNGKING, Nov. 20 (Int'l)—The financial position of Japan is extremely tense owing to excessive issue of banknotes, unceasing inflation, rise in prices and increasing deterioration of material conditions of the working people, according to Tass report from Tokyo.

The Bank of Japan holds a huge sum of non-subscribed bonds, and by the end of October this year the state debt of Japan amounted to twenty billion yen, while the year's issue of banknotes exceeds the planned sum of 500 million yen.

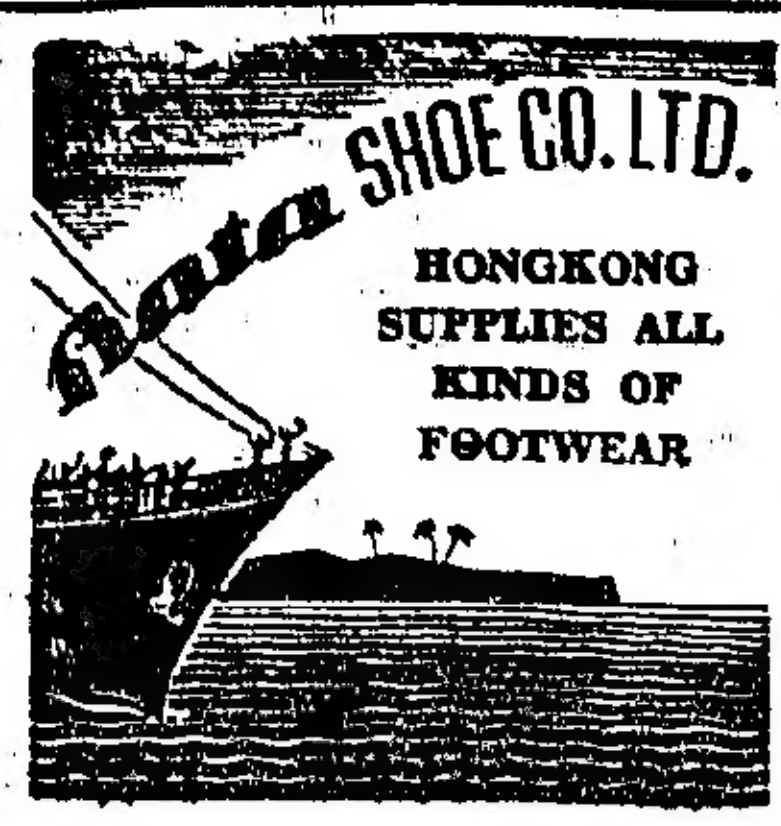

NEW LOANS
The Yomiuri Shimbun says that the Government intends to float a number of new loans and a special loan of four billion yen to cover war expenditure in China. The Japanese people will have to cut down expenses, limit the purchasing capacity of the population and intensify the general mobilization resources.

CHINA'S TEA EXPORT HIT BY WAR

SHANGHAI, Nov. 20 (Reuters)—War in Europe is having a crippling effect on the export of China's famous tea. Worst-hit area at present is Chekiang, home of the well-known "lung ching" (literally "dragon well") tea. British and French merchants have stopped buying this tea, and Chinese dealers are purchasing smaller quantities.

Owing to the fall in exports of "lung ching" tea, the price has dropped considerably. Before the European war, Chekiang's annual production of this tea was about 100,000 piculs, most of which went abroad, as in China it is only bought by the rich. This year, however, only about 15,000 piculs have been exported.

Chinese trade unions in Shanghai have received threatening letters from Wang Ching-wei's agents asking them to support Wang, according to a Shanghai dispatch. The unions are ignoring the threat and have sent telegrams to the National Government, pledging continued support. (Central News).

FRUIT INDUSTRY GETS NEW AWARD

About 10,000 employees in the canned, dried and fresh fruit industries in Victoria, South Australia and New South Wales will be affected by an award proposed by Judge O'Mara in the Arbitration Court.

New classifications, improved working conditions and slightly increased wages for juveniles are proposed, but the judge said he would not make the award final until he had heard certain points discussed by the parties.

Judge O'Mara said he would refer the question of standard hours to the Full Arbitration Court. Meanwhile, a 48 hours week, as under the old award, would operate.

The basic wage for this industry was fixed by the Full Court on October 8, 1937. The judge left it open for the parties to apply to that tribunal for a revision.

In those parts of New South Wales and Victoria within 20 miles from the chief post office at Mildura, including the districts of Trymple, Merbein, Red Cliffs, Wentworth and Currawa; in the Renmark and other irrigation settlements in South Australia near the River Murray, and in the Murrumbidgee district, including Leeton, the minimum rate for adult males is $4 a week or 1/8th an hour, where employees are engaged by the hour.

OTHER PAY RATES

The minimum rate for females aged 18 or more and working in those districts is 2/13/4 or 1/2th an hour.

The minimum for male adults in all other parts of New South Wales is 2/19 or 1/8th an hour; females 18 and over that age, 2/12/4 a week, 1/13 an hour; in all other parts of Victoria, 2/13 a week for adult males and 2/11/10 for females.

The proposed minimum rate for juvenile males is raised from 2/13 to 2/14 a week; the maximum from 2/11/6 to 2/14 a week.

Juvenile female rates range from 2/10/5 to 2/3/0/10 a week, according to age.

SEASONAL ALLOWANCE

The judge proposes to restore the seasonal workers' allowance of 3/ a week in August, 1940, and to improve their working conditions forthwith.

Employers shall supply wood and water to all permanent and seasonal employees.

Where suitable and sufficient accommodation in houses and huts on or in the vicinity of the property of the employer is not available the employers shall provide tents, a sum not exceeding 1/ a week to be deducted from the employees' wages.

S. AFRICA TO HAVE TRADE COMMISSIONER IN SINGAPORE

South Africa's trade with Malaya will soon be looked after by a Commissioner. The Union of South Africa has appointed a Trade Commissioner who will be stationed in Singapore.

First holder of the appointment will be Mr. L. F. Joubert, who comes to Malaya from Java, where he has been the Union's Trade Commissioner in Batavia for some months.

Malaya's trade with South Africa has shown a steady growth in recent years. Last year alone, the Union exported to Malaya $1,715,391 worth of goods.

Biggest item of Malaya's imports from South Africa is coal, while next in order of importance and value come non-ferrous metal ores and scrap. In 1938, South Africa exported coal to Malaya to the value of $1,318,713, while ores and scrap accounted for no less than $306,550.

But coal ore and scrap are by no means the only South African products imported into Malaya. The Colony and the Malaya States are also a market for South African chemicals, drugs, dyes and a large variety of articles, either wholly or mainly manufactured.

$3 MILLION EXPORTS
It is interesting to note that Malaya's trade with South Africa yielded a "profit" to Malaya in 1938—Malayan exports to the Union being $3,606,363, against imports from South Africa of $1,715,391.

South Africa is one of Malaya's big markets for rubber and gutta percha, absorbing nearly $1,500,000 worth of these products last year.

Exports of Malaya oils, fats and manufactured resins in 1938 came next with $1,257,617, while the other less important exports from the Colony and the Malay States to South Africa were rubber

COMMODITY PRICES IN CANADA DURING THE LAST WAR: POSSIBLE TRENDS TODAY

THE POSSIBLE TREND OF THE GENERAL LEVEL OF COMMODITY PRICES UNDER THE WAR CONDITIONS INTO WHICH THE WORLD HAS BEEN TRUST IS A QUESTION REGARDING WHICH MANY ARE SEEKING INFORMATION

Forecasting the probable trend of prices is a precarious task at best with the many and diverse factors of demand and supply which must be taken into consideration. But at the present time, purely economic factors are complicated by the injection of political and even strategic elements and conditions are changing with great rapidity.

For many months the international situation has been unsettled and uncertain with the threat of a major war constantly overshadowing the world. This threat has now become an actuality and with the impact of war, the minds of many turn back to August, 1914. A study of what happened to prices at that time and in subsequent months might therefore be of interest.

INITIAL EFFECT

While the general level of commodity prices rose substantially during the period 1914 to 1918, it was by no means a simple or continuous rise, particularly in the early months. The initial effect of the outbreak of hostilities was a partial paralysis of business as stock and commodity exchanges closed all over the world. The prices of many commodities, particularly those of essential foodstuffs such as wheat and sugar, rose while those of non-essential or luxury goods fell.

The decline in the prices of many commodities was accentuated by shipping difficulties and the fear of the heavy accumulation of stocks in the ports of exporting countries.

The outbreak of war in August so dislocated trade that violent movement transpired during the balance of 1914 in the prices of nearly all groups of commodities. Wheat, followed by other grains and flour, rose abruptly and continued upward, with fluctuations, to the end of the year.

FAIL IN PRICES

Within a few weeks, the dislocation of trade and the interruptions to shipping had been readjusted to the new conditions prevailing. The disturbance to industry, however, had so weakened the demand for many materials that the general level of prices fell in October in spite of the considerable advances reported for many products.

Unsettled financial conditions further increased the industrial depression and undermined the influences tending toward improvement; up to the outbreak of war, although this was partly offset by the high prices for farm products and the demand for military supplies, in December the markets for essential foods and materials were again active with prices advancing.

Early in 1915 this upward trend steepened as it became apparent that the conflict would probably be protracted and extensive orders for army supplies had exhausted practically all reserve stocks of many foods and materials.

STEEP RISE

Toward the end of the year, however, materials again rose steeply. Cereal crops throughout the world were generally short in 1916 with demand and the problem of distribution intensified by war conditions. These combined factors resulted in a marked increase in the general price level in the fourth quarter of the year involving a much steeper rise than had theretofore been recorded.

The underlying feature of the prices movement during 1917 was the world shortage of food, aggravated by the difficulty of transporting stocks from the principal sources of production, a difficulty due largely to the demand on the world's ocean tonnage for the shipment of war supplies and increased by the losses caused by submarines.

UPWARD SURGE

The upward surge of prices in Canada assumed renewed intensity in 1918 and the trend was particularly steep during the first half of the year. The rise slackened somewhat during the third quarter when the possibility of an armistice appeared on the horizon and with the actual cessation of hostilities

In November a slight decline was recorded.

The general price index in Canada reached its maximum in May 1920, after which it turned definitely downward. Two groups of products, animals and non-ferrous metals, had commenced the descent somewhat earlier.

Whilst the effective demand for many commodities had continued comparatively strong, this had not been sufficient to absorb the large quantities produced by an industrial machine geared to war conditions, stocks had been accumulating and when the slump in trade came, these were thrown upon the market at greatly reduced price.

PRESENT TRENDS

The trends shown in this review should not necessarily be regarded as prophetic of what may be expected should the present conflict develop into a long war. Enormous strides in the technique of production of industrial, agricultural and metal products have been made since the last war and strong trends towards higher prices should only be expected in the United States, for example, if, and when, unemployment largely disappears.

Of course, prices in Canada can diverge from those in the United States by changes which may occur in exchange relations and in other countries can be affected materially in addition by difficulties of transportation.

UNIQUE CORN MARKET AT IPOH

Unlike all other Malayan towns, Ipoh, the Hub of Malaya, possesses a self-made market for the sale of Indian corn alone, beside the banks of the Kinta River.

Any evening, after dusk, passers-by along High Low Street bridge will see a hive of activity near the People's Park, haggling for the long-shaped "pow sock" or "jagons".

The sellers arrive on bicycles to the carriers of which are baskets or tins containing hundreds of cobs of Indian corn, all boiled and ready for sale. Each costs about two cents, with bulk purchases slightly cheaper.

Indian corn has, to many, become a substitute for the "kachang" and "quar chee" habit.

Another peculiar thing is that this "market" is patronised by both rich and poor, the poor buying on the spot, the rich sending their maid servants to do the "shopping".

Boy Demonstrates How
He Saw Man Searching
His Mother's House

STANDING ON THE BAR TABLE AT THE CRIMINAL SESSIONS before Mr. Justice R. E. Lindsell yesterday, a 13-year-old boy demonstrated to the jury how he saw the man in the dock searching his mother's house at dead of night while he was returning home with a stone of Chinese ink.

The case was the outcome of an attack in Po Kong village, Kowloon, when seven or eight men entered the house of Tam Sau-ying, and her family while they had packed up preparatory to leaving for Chungking.

The men entered by the kitchen door and began searching the house eventually taking six rings, $23 in Hongkong money and $25 in Chinese currency. The men seized the woman by the throat and tore her jacket while the other inmates of the house were also attacked.

In the dock was Lam Muk-sing. He pleaded not guilty and was arraigned before a jury comprising Messrs Tsang Fook (foreman), C. A. Andrews, Tsang Chul-yuen, Tse Tim-chao, P. M. Eienbass E. H. C. de Cavalho and E. Alves. Mr. T. J. Gould, Assistant Crown Solicitor, prosecuted, assisted by Sgt. C. Downman. The defendant was not represented by counsel.

Of special interest in the case was a handkerchief found with accused's belongings and which he claimed as his own, but which the complainant asserted belonged to her. She said it was being used to wipe the baby's mouth at the time of the robbery. After the robbers had gone the handkerchief was missing.

After complainant had given evidence telling of the night's experience, Chan Hong Chan, 28, draftsman, living next door, told how he had gone to the complainant's house on the night of Oct. 15 at about midnight. He was surprised to find three strange men there, one of whom had a gun.

When he realised it was a robbery and tried to run a way he was caught by the robbers and dragged inside. Then about four or five more robbers came in. He was robbed of two rings. The robbers were there for about ten minutes, and on hearing police whistles, ran away.

PULLED OUTSIDE

After Fong Kwong had given evidence of how he was chased by the robbers, Fong Yuk Kwan, a 13-year-old boy and son of the complainant gave evidence of how, while returning home from next door with a stone of Chinese ink he saw two men trying to get into the house from which he got the ink. One of the robbers pulled him outside and left him there. He then ran to his mother's house next door, where he saw the defendant inside searching for something.

His Lordship then asked the lad to get on the table and show the jury what the defendant was doing in his mother's house. Later he positively identified the defendant at the police station.

Defendant (from the dock)—You falsely accuse me.

Witness (to Judge)—I am positive he was the man.

Further evidence was given by Sgt. J. A. Cordeux and Fong Chung, 14-year-old maid-servant to complainant. The latter identified the handkerchief as that used for wiping the baby's mouth. She was attending to the baby at the time of the robbery.

ARREST OF DEFENDANT

Leong Wing, detective 98, testified to having arrested defendant within a short time of the crime. This was corroborated by another Chinese detective Chun Lam.

Making a statement from dock, the accused said: "If I did commit a robbery at complainant's place, I won't mind being killed or run over by a bus. The small boy also ought to be killed or run over by a bus if he makes such a statement. The handkerchief is really mine and if your Lordship does not believe me, I can call two witnesses to prove that it is mine."

The accused then said that his witnesses were Cheung Keung and another man whose real name he did not know but whose nickname was "half-crazy-man." Both of them worked at the Wing On Tea-house in Shamshuipo.

His Lordship asked the police to make inquiries and adjourned the hearing till 2.15 p.m. tomorrow.

WAR BAGS MAY RETURN

At the Royal School of Needlework, busy fingers are arranging patterns of surgical apparatus, bedjackets, and night-shirts for the Red Cross.

"They will be sent to hospital supply depots all over England," Lady Smith-Dorrien, principal of the school, said.

"We are making patterns of masks for doctors and nurses to wear in the operating theatre. With the aid of about 80 voluntary helpers we made 1,620 patterns in paper for gauze swabs, and sewed 200 surgical masks.

THE BAG FUND

"I have asked the War Office if they want me to re-open my Hospital Bag Fund. I sent 6,000,000 bags to various medical units in the last war.

"They are used when a man is wounded—to hold the contents of his pockets and personal belongings—sealed and labelled, and tied to his stretcher.

"We used to make them, first, in unbleached calico, but latterly in cretonne. The men liked them best in the latter because they were more easily recognisable.

"When I start this fund again I shall be glad of help, for as long as the sizes are kept to, even a child can make the bags. Children who have evacuated to the country as well their teachers can do yeoman service in this.

"Meanwhile I have had to disband the junior workers and the students at the school. We have no funds and no resources."

Banished for life on February 10, 1937, Tang Fuk, 33, who returned was committed to the Criminal Sessions, when he appeared before Mr. R. A. D. Forrest at the Central Magistracy yesterday, on a charge of breach of the Deportation Ordinance. Tang was arrested on Nov. 12.

Guerilla Activity Along
Canton - Kowloon Railway

A Central News correspondent, who made a tour of the Canton-Kowloon Railway zone, found Chinese guerillas active along the line.

Sections of the line are still in Chinese control. In the southern sector the Japanese are concentrated at Shumchun while in the northern sector Japanese military trains are running only between Canton and Shekiung.

Large Chinese guerilla units are stationed at various points to the east of the railway. They have frequently attacked the Japanese.

2,000 AT SHUMCHUN

The Japanese garrison at Shumchun is estimated at 2,000. About 500 Japanese troops are stationed at Bocca Tigris and 400 at Tungkan.

Japanese spy organs have been organised at Shumchun, Shekiung, Shekian, Chaihsan and other points along the railway. Chinese undesirable are engaged by the Japanese to do espionage, each being paid from $20 to $50 per month.

Tintongwai, Tongtowha, Cheung-muktau, Sheungping and Wong-likhu are all in Chinese hands. Tintongwai is in a devastated state. Most of the shops have closed down and few people remain. The railway station has been destroyed by Japanese aerial bombs.

The correspondent inspected the battlefield at Tintongwai where a bitter engagement was fought on October 4. He saw heaps of ashes on the ground where the Japanese are said to have cremated their dead before their retreat.

NEW TAXATION

Various taxes are imposed by the bogus organisations in Japanese occupied areas. In the Bocca Tigris area there are the land tax, amusement tax, tobacco and wine tax, slaughter tax, opium lamp tax, opium suppression tax, fowl tax, fruit tax, medicine tax, prostitution tax, and many others. It amounts to $300,000 per month.

The Chinese have done heavy damage to communication lines. There is a sabotage corps which is specially responsible for the destruction of the Canton-Kowloon Railway. All the eleven highways

BRITAIN BUYS
COTTON

CAIRO, Nov. 20 (Reuter)—It is officially announced that the British Government has agreed to buy from Egypt all her cotton which, before the War, was sold to Germany.

PROFITEER FINED
50 RUPEES

The omission to state the maximum prices obtaining in the Colombo Municipal area was urged as a plea in a profiteering case by Mr. V. Ponnusamy, who appeared for a man named Abdul Careem, a salesman of Kandapola.

Careem was charged before Mr. H. S. Roberts with profiteering in rice and currysuffs. He was found guilty and fined Rs. 50, in default six months' rigorous imprisonment.

Mr. Ponnusamy argued that in the absence of the maximum prices obtaining in the Colombo Municipal area the accused found it impossible to calculate the prices for Kandapola. The "Gazette" notification giving the fixed prices of currysuffs in the district had omitted to mention the maximum retail prices in Colombo. It had stated merely the increase over the Colombo prices.

DIFFERENT PAGE

The Magistrate stated in his finding that the maximum prices obtaining in Colombo were mentioned in a notification signed by Deputy Controller, Kegalla District, on a different page of the same "Gazette."

He could not agree with the argument that just because the maximum retail prices of currysuffs obtaining in the Colombo Municipal area did not appear in the "Gazette" notification of the Deputy Controller, Nuraia Ellya District, the Court could not look into another notification appearing in the same "Gazette" in order to ascertain the maximum retail prices of currysuffs obtaining in the Colombo Municipal area.

He was satisfied on the evidence that the accused sold the currysuffs to the complainant in excess of the maximum retail prices, and fined him Rs. 50, in default six months' rigorous imprisonment.

CHINA WAR NEWS

and Newwangmiao, following their reoccupation of Xitaitow on Nov. 17.

Areas south of Puhlsen, which was reverted to Chinese control last week, have now been cleared of remnant Japanese units following the Chinese "mopping up" operations.

JAPANESE ATTACK

FUNGSHUN, Nov. 20 (Central)—A unit of 400 Japanese foot-soldiers, supported by three planes, made an attack on Wuho and Sakow-chun, from Chaoyang, last Saturday. The invaders were forced to retreat after two hours' fighting.

JAPANESE REVERSES

KINHWA, Nov. 20 (Central)—As a result of a Chinese enveloping attack, the Japanese at Shangling and Lienshih, in North Chekiang, near the Kiangsu border, are now fleeing towards Linghu in the west.

A Japanese unit retreating from Sinshih is reported to have been encircled by the Chinese at Yang-chwang nearby.

HINGNING BOMBING

HINGNING, KWANGTUNG, Nov. 20 (Central)—Three civilians were killed and three others wounded at Hingning, in East Kwangtung, on Saturday, when six Japanese planes staged two air raids over the town. About 25 demolition bombs were released.

In the Tungkan district have been thoroughly damaged.

Aside from their military duties, the Chinese guerillas are helping the peasants in farming. A most cordial air exists between them.
